Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

Facing north, Clark Circle Cottage #4 lies slightly northeast of Cottage #2. The cottage is constructed of flemish bond brick and rises two stories high. The main block of the building measures nine bays wide and three bays deep. The south wall exhibits a three bay wide and two bay deep projection with provides the building with a T shaped configuration. Two, one story attachments flank the T projection. The east side is an open porch while the west side is enclosed. Both have flat roofs and are supported by brick piers. The entire building rests on a brick water table and is capped by a hipped roof. Clark Circle Cottage #4 displays features of the Georgian Revival style of architecture and closely resembles Clark Circle Cottage #3 because they were constructed at the same time. For a more complete description of the cottage, please refer to the description of Clark Circle Cottage #3.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

Clark Circle Cottage #4 is significant as a contributing member of the epileptic colony group. Built as residential housing, Cottage #4 was designed by Henry Powell Hopkins. The Northeastern Construction Company built the Cottage by November 1928 so that patients could be moved in before the winter months.

Henry Powell Hopkins designed the four original buildings of the epileptic group as his first commission at Springfield. Several years later when he designed Cottage #3 and Cottage #4, Hopkins had already executed several additional designs on the hospital campus. The architect went on to complete sixteen building designs and the addition to the Hubner Building during his professional involvement at Springfield State Hospital. In addition, the architect executed designs at other state hospitals which influenced the Springfield Board of Managers to identify Hopkins as somewhat of an expert in hospital design.
